Why this practice

Four countries, three continents, one delivery standard — Production track record across Rwanda, Turkey, Ethiopia, and Mexico, with over eight years of shipping reliable systems.

Bilingual delivery as a default, not an upcharge — Technical artifacts in English, Spanish, or Turkish. You choose the language, with no translation overhead.

You brief me; I write the code and the runbooks. — No junior handoffs, no agency overhead, no telephone game between specs and shipping.

Every engagement ends with runbooks, not just code — Architecture diagrams, deployment runbooks, and clean knowledge transfer included by default.
